Sail and Power Boating

Chartered 17 October 1967

July & August 2011

Volume 45 Number 07

Cdr Michael Haines, AP

It's hard to believe, but the year is half over. I guess it's true that time flies when you're having fun. Summer is here, with many more opportunities for boating, fishing, and all the fun things involving water. The downside of summer is that it's also Hurricane Season, as it started 1 June. As a precaution, FEMA has urged us to assess our personal readiness to respond to emergencies and have a plan of action in the event of a hurricane. Living in the Tropics, we should know how to do this by now. Maybe our luck will hold out for this season again.

So far we've held 2 on-the-water activities (another check mark for "Doing It Right"), counting our Fleet Review and the most recent rendezvous at Breezy Palms in Islamorada with the quick, bumpy boat rides. If you couldn't make it to Breezy Palms, don't fret. I plan to make more Pina Colodas at Sebastian. "Thank You" to all of you who did attend, pitched in, and helped so much to make it a thoroughly enjoyable event.

We've been in contact with 3 cyber students (completed the Boating Safety course on-line), with one already attending a short review session with SEO Lt/C Bob Redon, P and myself, then taking a proctored exam. Now having completed the exam, an offer of 6 months free membership will be extended. Thank you to those Squadron members who came out on short notice and participated in this activity, helping to introduce USPS/CRSPS to this potential new member.

I want to remind you again to mark your calendars for the District 8 Summer Rendezvous, as it will be in our backyard. Pier 66 is the venue for this event scheduled for July 15 thru 17. Come out and have some fun. Check your Newsletter for details. Unfortunately, I will not be able to attend as I will be in China (again). I'll want to hear all about it when I return.

Wishing you fair winds and a following sea,
Mike

We will be testing 1 person on Thursday 23 June who have taken ABC class on line. (Two people had to reschedule.) Also we will be doing a class on Aug 13 for any one who calls the Squadron number. Mike and I are very hopeful that six months free membership will bring them in. Keep in mind that every one under the age of 23 will be required to show that they have completed a boating safety class.

Fitness for boaters

Safety Corner

Are you fit to be a boater?

The following exercises have been developed to assist boaters with sometimes gruesome, always uncomfortable boat maintenance tasks.

Please note: Seek medical advice before starting any physical exercise routine. For boaters, psychiatric advice might be helpful as well.

Coffee table crawl

Lie on your stomach at one end of the coffee table, and crawl under the table and out the other end. This simulates crawling into the engine compartment to perform routine maintenance. Advanced routine: Do while holding a toolbox off the floor to simulate not scratching the teak deck.

Kitchen cupboard toe touch

Open two adjoining lower cupboard doors. Crawl into one door and halfway out the other. During this maneuver, wrap your body around the center post and touch your fingers to your toes. This is a good warm-up exercise for working on your boat.

Toilet bowl marathon

While lying on the floor, crawl behind the bathroom toilet. With your feet extending from one side of the fixture and your hands extending from the other, clean inside the bowl with a brush. This simulates checking connections on the back of the engine.

Kitchen drawer extensions

Place marbles on the bottom of a kitchen cabinet underneath a drawer. Remove the drawer. With the cabinet door closed, reach through the drawer slot to pick up the marbles. This exercise simulates retrieving a small part from the bottom of the bilge.

High-jacked car wash

Take your car to a service station with a hoist. Have the car raised to the top. Proceed to wash and wax your car while standing on a wobbly ladder. This simulates a typical (albeit unsafe) hull-waxing position.

High-flying jumbo lift

Lean a rickety ladder against your house. Carry overloaded laundry baskets, grocery sacks and boxes to the roof, and then bring them back down. This exercise simulates loading your boat while it's still on the cradle. Extra points: Have the neighborhood kids bang on the bottom of the ladder while somebody yells advice to you!

EPIRB Owners:

A problem has been identified with some older EPIRBs that have had their batteries replaced by the manufacturer. The registration number may have been changed by the manufacturer with or without clear notification to the owner. The result is that some registration numbers may be identified to the incorrect vessels and owners. Partial mitigation of this problem may be effected by Vessel Examiners if they will inquire whether vessels have an EPIRB onboard that may have had its batteries replaced. If a unit is found with replaced batteries suggest that the owner verify whether or not their registration number is actually the one on file with the FCC for their vessel.

Sea Tow's Automated Radio Check Service

In areas across the country, Sea Tow is offering boaters a new way to conduct radio checks that doesn't require help from other boaters or watch standers. To use Sea Tow's free Automated Radio Check service, simply tune your VHF radio to the appropriate channel for your location and conduct a radio check as you typically would. Upon releasing your radio's microphone, the system will play an automated message and relay your transmission back to you, thereby letting you know that boaters can hear you loud and clear.

Visit this page often for updates and channel listing by city: http://www.seatow.com/boating_safety/ARC.asp

Updates to our Award Winning website are made "as they happen" by P/C Michael W. Turner, JN!
